

BRANDT® Rezadone™

High Performance Residue Breakdown

BRANDT Rezadone is a high performance product designed to breakdown residue and release nutrients in the residue back into the soil. This formulation contains a patent-pending microbe technology that provides each microbe with optimum conditions to stay active longer, ensuring complete residue breakdown in the field. BRANDT Rezadone improves planter performance, earlier nutrient availability, and soil health.

Key Benefits

- Breaking down residue faster will allow faster planting, stronger stands, and fewer skips
- More nutrients available early
- Less tillage required
- Improve soil health
